

EXPLANATORY NOTES ON THE TRAINING SCHEDULE

This programme is for those who have done some running and at the start of the programme are capable of running up to an hour without too much bother. For those who are more or less complete novices you will have to modify this programme somewhat and place more emphasis on steady running and time on your feet. Every fourth week has been made an easier one to allow the body to recover and consolidate somewhat following the three previous hard weeks.

TERMS

- Mixed Running: By this I mean varying the pace of your run and puffing in hard bursts of up to 1km every now and then. These changes of pace can be for as short a distance of 200m or as long as 1km.
- Steady Running: This is keeping a constant pace throughout the run and trying not to slow down towards the end of the run. This run should be done at your best "aerobic speed" in other words a pace you can maintain throughout the run.
- Easy Running: This is where you are not thinking of speed at all and it is either a recovery run from previous hard efforts or you are running for a long time.
- G/S/B Gym/Swim/Bike as an alternative if tired after the weekend.
- GR If resident in Dunedin there is a Group Run available from outside Henry's Liquor in Hanover
- St, Dunedin each Monday and Wednesday at 5.45pm a chance to meet and train with other Marathon runners.
- It's a good idea to do some 5km and 10km harder efforts at times e.g. Park Run as this helps with oxygen uptake.
- For those more experienced a run of up to 40km on a Sunday occasionally will be of benefit.
