HALF MARATHON SUB 1HOUR 40 MINUTE TRAINING SCHEDULE NOTES

INTRODUCTION

This Schedule assumes you have a reasonable level of fitness have been running regularly and be able to run for an hour comfortably.

SUB 1 HOUR 40 MINUTES

To go under 1 hour 40 minutes for an half marathon you need to be capable of running about 22 minutes for 5km or 45 minutes for 10km. If you are not close to these times then your speed at this time will be a limitation in achieving your goal and you may like to refer to the Dunedin Half Marathon Beginners 12 week training Schedule which will allow you to finish a half marathon NOT race one.

DISTANCE

This training schedule works mainly on time on your feet rather than distance covered. Do not worry overly much how far you have covered in a set time you will go further as you get fitter. More importantly is the overall picture of your ability to train to the prescribed time.

REST

Rest is an important part of training too. You will be able to run the long runs better and reduce your risk of injury if you rest after your long runs.

LONG RUNS

The long runs are followed by short ones to assist recovery and build up rather than break down. Make your longest run, at a pace as slow as you feel comfortable. Never increase the distance or running time of the longest run, or the total weekly distance running time by more than 10% a week.

GENERAL

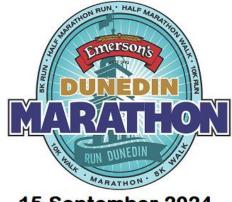

Read what you can on diet, carbohydrate loading, hydrating and other aspects of distance running. Joining a running club for companionship and the advice of experienced runners will also provide help

A Long Aerobic Run

The longer runs are the key to your half marathon performance because they provide you with the aerobic development and strength endurance required. The long runs should be done at a moderate pace.

Steady Runs

These boost your anaerobic threshold and condition you to maintain a solid intensity for extended periods.

Speed Sessions

Speed sessions provide neuromuscular adaptations and so help improve efficiency and technique. These should be done on a track, grass or flat surface.
